Ithaca, N. Y., Sept. 18.—Miss Loewus who has attracted considerable notice through her remarkable record as a dietitian, is a pupil of the Conservatory of Music here, which ranks third in the United States.

The Ithaca conservatory maintains number of departments, including a school of expression. It has several buildings and is increasing the number. One of the new buildings has a large stage, which the school uses for its plays. Out-of-door, plays have been given on the grounds near De Witt Park. Probably dramatic work will become more prominent with the increased facilties now provided.

The furniture for the new bed chambers, to be used for guests, will for the most part be taken from the storage reems. Much of it is truly historic and needs only to be refinished and repaired.

To-day the decorators went to work in the great entrance hall, and are changing the walls from a faded buff, with a not too artistic blending of salmon pink, into a true, clean buff, with a three-foot dade of old ivery to correspond with the into relief the emblematic frieze which surrounds the walls.

The ground floor halls are finished, and instead of being salmon pink they are a would be completed within a year at a white. The rooms occupied by Miss Jescost of $150,000. the northwest corner of the residence, are "EVANGELINE" IS POSTPONED.

Arthur Hopkins announces that his production of Longfellow's "Evangeline," White House belle, and later by Miss scheduled to open at the Park Theatre Taft. No changes in the decorations are
